

The Man of Style Who Respects his Purse

To the wide-awake American, style should be a matter of personal pride. He has the true American traits—youth, vigor, success—and his clothes must make him look the part. Our clothes appeal equally to his eye and to his pocketbook. He likes their style-to-the-minute. He notes the sure signs of sturdy wear and the daily comfort of real satisfaction.

What is Osteopathy

Osteopathy deals with the body as an intricate machine which, if kept in proper adjustment, nourished and cared for, will run smoothly into a ripe and useful old age. When every part of this machine is adjusted and in perfect harmony, health will hold dominion over the human organism by natural law.

The Osteopathic physician, by treating the spine will free the nerve forces to all parts of the body. This will in turn increase the circulation of blood and lymph, and activate the glands throughout the body. It will give strength to the heart.

About Rheumatism

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that there is a remedy that will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. It is called Chamberlain's Liniment.

THE THEATRE

The Idlehour

Unusual interest is being shown in the announcement of the management of the Idlehour theatre that "The Unbeliever" is to be shown at that theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, June fourth and fifth.

The United States Marine corps cooperated in the production of this greatest of war films, "The Unbeliever."

The Edison company sent a company of actors to the U. S. M. C. war cantonment at Quantico, where the war scenes were staged under the supervision of Col. A. S. McElmore and members of his staff. These officers had recently returned from France, where they had studied actual war conditions on the Western front.

Marguerite Courtot and Raymond McKee are the featured players. Miss Courtot achieves a distinctive triumph through her interpretation of the brave little Belgian martyr, a part that represents the noble spirit of Belgium surviving the devastation wrought in the wake of the Hun. Raymond McKee carries the pep and punch of the U. S. A. into France and Belgium, where ruthless realism carves his soul to its complete development. Several officers and non-commissioned officers of the Marine Corps are cast in important roles, and their representation of discipline in the trained maneuvers of the Marine Battalion give the appearance of the soldierly in "The Unbeliever" a convincing military atmosphere. This picture ran for five consecutive weeks in the Majestic Theatre, Detroit, which is the longest run any picture ever had in that city.

Liberty Theatre

That wonderful film, "Jack and the Beanstalk," will be seen at the Liberty Theatre Saturday. It is one of the most spectacular films of the year, and is bound to be highly pleasing to the older people.

It is a marvelous revelation of the possibilities of the movies, carrying through this story with a great accuracy, which would not be thought possible. To miss it is to miss one of the biggest film treats of the year.

On May 29 another great feature, "Scandal," will be presented. It is a vivid human story of people who are doing the things which we see going on all around us. Constance Talmadge stars in this feature production of the Select Pictures Corporation.

Health Conditions

In man Health is the normal condition. Where there is less than perfect health the source of health has been interfered with. The source of man health, is his nerves, as over the nerves the life principle courses. To improve the nerve interferes with the source of health to the part it supplies. Chiropractic adjustments release the pressure on the nerve which is the cause of ill health and results in restoring a normal condition to nerve structure.

The JEFFERSON Magneto Lamp Regulator for FORD Cars

The Jefferson Magneto Lamp Regulator will operate all the lights on a Ford car electrically—headlights, side-lights, spotlight, speedometer light, trouble light and tail-light.

When the Jefferson Regulator is installed the lights are wired in multiple, operating each light separately and independently of the others, and if one light burns out the balance is not affected. The present Ford system of wiring is in series, lighting the headlights only, and if one lamp burns out the other automatically goes out.

Another objectionable feature of the series wiring system is the burning out of the headlights when the engine is racing or the car is running at a high rate of speed. The Jefferson Regulator eliminates this condition by maintaining the voltage within safe limits at all engine speeds.
